The elected officers of the Committee shall be elected by members of the Society not more than five weeks before the end of University Full Lent Term each year.

No person may stand for, or be elected to, a position on the Committee who is not a member of the Society. In particular, the President shall be a member of the College in good standing, and shall expect to remain a member of the College until the end of their full period in office. For those pursuing one year degrees, evidence of intention to continue as a graduate student of the University and member of the College will be required.

3. Voting

Elected officers shall be appointed in a secret ballot in which all members of the Society are entitled to vote, and at which a Fellow of the College shall act as Returning Officer. The Fellow acting as Returning Officer shall be assisted by a member of the Society, called the Election Officer, not standing in the election and appointed by the Committee for the purpose and to whom may be delegated specific duties. An online voting system may be applied in addition to the traditional ballot system, and the Returning Officer will be responsible for proving the security of the system. Provisions shall be made, upon request, for absentee voting for any member of the Society who is bona fide unable to attend or to vote via the online voting system if applied.

4. Election Officer

The Election Officer shall assist the Returning Officer in the election arrangements. The Election Officer may, as necessary, appoint assistants who shall not be candidates in the election or byelection and to whom may be delegated their duties and responsibilities.

5. Duties of the Election Officer

The Election Officer, overseen by the Returning Officer, shall:

- i. Open a nominations book at least 12 days before the date of the election and close it five days before the election.

- iii. Notify each member of the Society at least three days in advance of the election about the names of candidates, the date of the election and method of voting including the method of absentee or online voting referred to in §III, 3. above.
- iv. Where the number of candidates for any position is exactly one, declare the candidate provisionally elected. Members shall have five days within which to ask the Election Officer that nominations be reopened. Such requests shall be treated in strictest confidence by the Election Officer. If fewer than 12 members of the Society exercise this right, the candidate shall be declared elected. If 12 or more members do exercise this right, then an election shall be held.
- v. When no candidates are nominated for a position, announce at the close of the nominations period the extension of the nomination period by two days. If no nominations are received by the close of this extended nominations period, the positions with no nominations shall be coopted by the elected members of the committee. The cooption shall take place at the first meeting of the newly elected committee. The quorum shall be comprised of all the newly elected officers.
- vi. Where an election is required, either because the number of candidates for any position is greater than one, or an election is necessitated according to §III, 5. (iv), conduct the election on the date appointed. A reopen nominations (RON) option shall be included on the ballot paper or the online voting system if applied.
- vii. Arrange for the online voting system, if applied, to be open on the day of the election for a period of time prior to the opening of the ballot boxes that ensures the integrity of the election.
- viii. Arrange for the ballot boxes to be open for at least two hours on the day of the election and ensure that they are properly manned throughout that period.
- ix. Give one copy of the correct ballot paper to each member entitled and wishing to vote and having not done so via an online option.
- x. Count the votes.
- xi. Adjudicate on the validity of any unconventionally marked ballot papers.
- xii. The result shall be determined by Single Transferable Vote. Should RON win, nominations are reopened. Candidates against whom the RON option has been exercised may stand again for the position in question, but anyone whose candidacy is successfully opposed by RON in two consecutive elections shall not be eligible for that position for six months from the date of the second election.

- xiii. Publicise the results by declaring elected the winning candidate or candidates, or calling a new election if necessary.
- xiv. In the event of a tie for any post, determine the result by drawing lots among the tying candidates unless one or more of these candidates objects. In this case there shall be another election between tying candidates only, to be held as soon as possible.

6. By-elections

If an elected office falls vacant for any reason, a by-election shall be held as soon as possible under the above procedure.

IV. Open Meetings

1. Status
